

The Joy of Gourmet Cookies

Gourmet cookies are a particularly delicious treat that are good for all occasions. Gourmet cookies may be served at parties, special occasions, and are great as gifts. Christmas, graduations, anniversaries, and other various holidays and occasions are ideal locations for gourmet cookies.

Gourmet cookie gift baskets or cookie tins are the perfect present for any occasion. It is likely to be the number one gift for coworkers, grandparents, and all of those people you have trouble finding a gift for. You can also order gourmet cookie gift baskets that are personalized for the person of your choice. Cookie tins are often given at Christmas, for anniversaries, birthdays, and as a get well gift. Holiday celebrations or office socials are the perfect place for a cookie tin full of finger size cookies for guests to munch on.

Bakers and caterers have found new, innovative ways to mold gourmet cookies into all shapes and sizes. For example, instead of giving your significant other a bouquet of flowers, get him/her a gourmet cookie bouquet. For the child in your life you can order cookies in the shapes of Disney characters. For an athlete who has just won a big game, there are sports themed cookie baskets. When it comes to designing cookies, the possibilities are endless.

In case you do not know what type of cookie someone prefers, you may also send them an assortment of various kinds of cookies. There are more types of gourmet cookies than you could possibly add up. There are the usual chocolate chip, peanut butter, oatmeal raisin, and macadamia nut, and sugar cookies. Other favorite sorts of cookies include molasses, rangers, snicker-doodles, gingerbread, and triple chocolate.

For those who are keeping an eye on their weight, or perhaps cannot consume loads of sugar, it is possible to purchase, or make, low-fat or sugar-free gourmet cookies. While they won't have quite the same sweet taste, they are still delicious. It is even possible to buy a low-carb cookie gift basket.

If you want to make your own gourmet cookies but are a bit apprehensive, don't worry, it's not as hard as it sounds. Recipes for gourmet cookies usually aren't much different from regular cookie recipes and can be found in cookbooks or online. You can buy or order a gourmet cookbook and can make your own cookies to your heart's content.

No matter if you make your own gourmet cookies or order them, they have a wonderful taste that everyone loves. Gourmet cookies are an excellent present, a great snack to have on hand, and are one of the best desserts you can find. Don't fool yourself into thinking that gourmet cookies are only for the richest and most sophisticated people, because gourmet cookies are accessible and can be enjoyed by everyone.